FATHER OF POLICE

CAPTAIN IS LOST

Charles P. Daley Believed to Have Wandered Away.

Capt. John Daley, of the Ninth precinct, last night requested the police of the other precincts to institute a search for his father, Charles P. Daley, seventy-five years old, who disappeared from his home, at 1103 Tenth street southeast, on Thursday.

Capt. Daley fears the aged man has met with harm, and he asked his brother officials in the police department to make every effort to find some trace of the wanderer. Relatives cannot explain why Daley left home, and it is believed his mind is temporarily unbalanced.

The missing man is five feet eight inches in height, weighs about 150 pounds, has gray hair, and wore a dark suit and black slouch hat when he disappeared. He has been in the custom of carrying a cane, and the stick disappeared with his owner.

CITIZENS WANT UNITY

Co-operation Is the Keynote of Big Mass Meeting.

CIVIC BETTERMENTS OUTLINED

Presidents and Representatives of Various Associations Speak on Questions Confronting District, and All Emphasize Good of Central Federation to Carry Out Ideas.

"Citizens, get together!" was the slogan of a public mass meeting held last night in Whitney Avenue Christian Church, when presidents and representatives of various citizens' associations made addresses in which co-operation was the keynote.

The meeting was held under the auspices of the Park View Citizens' Association as an impetus to the initial campaign of the Federation of Citizens' Associations which will begin a busy season in November.

Judge Charles Bundy, president of Columbia Heights Citizens' Association, was the first speaker and declared that united action was needed, in order to get proper school facilities in the District.

William McK. Clayton, president of the Federation of Citizens' Associations, said that "If all citizens of the District had taken interest in its development in the past there would not be any questions confronting the associations now."

Mr. Clayton said that Washington had always boasted of its broad and spacious streets, and pointed out that Rock Creek road had been made narrower even before the law went into effect.

Cost of Maintenance.

"I wonder how many people there are who know that we expend more to maintain our fire and police service each year than we do to educate our children," he continued, "and I have no doubt that it is a matter of surprise to many that $1,200,000 is the yearly bill for taking care of our prisoners, the insane, and other burdens of society."

"We need to teach our citizens to take an active part in the civic questions, in order that we might develop strength," he said, in conclusion.

W. H. Richardson, treasurer of the federation, made a brief address, in which he urged unity and co-operation.

Prof. Allen Davis, principal of Business High School, representing the Southeast Citizens' Association, spoke of the necessity of combining efforts in order to improve educational conditions. President Cromwell, of the Potomac Citizens' Association, took up the park question, and declared that it is never a local question, but one that affects the entire District.

President Dyre, of the Takoma Park Association, made an address, in which he praised the idea of a central body.

The address of welcome was made by Mrs. Josephine Carter, past chief of Real Estate Temple. The Ideal Mandolin Club rendered several selections, which were followed by comic songs by D. D. Weinstein. Charles F. Purdy gave a sketch and F. E. Boyer sang a solo, which was followed by a comic recitation by Talbot O. Pulzai. The Misses Genevieve Frank and Helen Jarboe were applauded in a comic duet. Miss Thelma Suell sang a solo.

The members and their guests retired to the banquet room. The tables were arranged in the shape of a triangle, emblematic of the order. Miss Mary Steiner acted as toastmistress.

Past Grand Chancellor Albert Kahler presented Harry Gasson with a beautiful cut glass bowl in honor of his having served as grand keeper of records and seals for the last ten years. He was recently made a past grand chancellor by the Grand Lodge.

Past Supreme Chancellor Edward Dunn responded to the toast, "The Supreme Lodge, K. of P." Mrs. Greener, past grand chief of Maryland Pythian Sisters, "The Pythian Sisters of Maryland," Grand Chancellor H. P. Willey, "The mother domain of Pythianism," while other speakers were Maj. T. A. Bynum, Capt. F. M. Pelzman, Capt. J. H. Williams, and Mrs. Emma D. Bynum, past grand chief of Pythian Sisters of Virginia.

LID ON LIQUOR IS LIFTED

There is joy in the "Indian country" of Minnesota over an order issued by Secretary Ballinger, who has "lifted the lid," thus permitting the introduction and sale of liquor in the northern part of that State.

It is shared by the Chippewa braves, in spite of restrictions, and more particularly by thousands of pale faces, living in that great stretch of Minnesota extending from the Canadian border southward to Minneapolis, including that city and Duluth, which was immortalized by Proctor Knott.

Under treaties made with the Chippewa in Minnesota, years ago, the government reserved the right to suppress the liquor traffic on ceded lands which passed into the possession of white settlers. Minnesota settled rapidly, towns sprang up, and Indians began to assume the duties of citizenship. They did not lose their taste for fire water as they advanced in civilization.

Despite these precautions the Chippewa continued to imbibe and annoy the whites in the little towns. Things went from bad to worse a year or so ago. After an investigation by government agents a few months ago, the Commissioner of Indian Affairs issued an order directing the closing of saloons in some sections of Minnesota's Indian country, and letting them run full blast in other sections.

This was the situation that confronted Secretary Ballinger when he returned to Washington. Delegations came from Minnesota and told their story to Secretary Ballinger. Thereupon he wrote a letter to Indian Commissioner Valentine in which an order was embodied that will make light the hearts of many people in Northern Minnesota. Under its terms liquor may be introduced and sold in the "Indian country" if the local officials see to it that the traffic does not touch the Chippewa braves.

It is stated Infante Alfonso, after fighting heroically in the streets at the head of the royalist troops, was captured by the victorious republicans, but was released by orders of the leaders and directed to join his royal relatives.

KING AND ROYAL FAMILY ARE SAFE AT GIBRALTAR

King Manuel and the members of the royal family have arrived safely at Gibraltar on board the royal yacht, Richard L. Sprague, American consul at Gibraltar, reported their arrival to the State Department yesterday.

The royal yacht, he added, was escorted by two British cruisers, which immediately sailed for Oporto.

MONKS AND NUNS MUST QUIT COUNTRY AT ONCE

Berlin, Oct. 7.—The Frankfurter Zeitung states that the Portuguese government has decreed that the monks and nuns must leave the country within twenty-four hours.

Priests are forbidden to wear clerical garb in the streets.

TAFT ORDERS DES MOINES TO PROCEED TO PORTUGAL

The cruiser Des Moines was yesterday ordered from Gibraltar to Lisbon to make an investigation of political conditions there and also to protect American interests. The Des Moines should arrive to-day. Acting Secretary of the Navy Winthrop instructed Commander John F. Luby, commanding officer of the Des Moines, to make a personal investigation of conditions there. The Des Moines was sent to Lisbon, it is understood, by direction of President Taft.

Neither the State nor the Navy Department at first intended to send an American naval vessel to Portuguese waters, because of the fact that foreign interests did not seem to be in jeopardy, and also because American interests in Portugal are comparatively small. The President's action, it is understood, was taken upon his own initiative. The State Department, it was said, did not recommend such action.

A copy of President Bragan's manifesto proclaiming the establishment of a republic was received at the State Department to-day by cable from Henry T. Gage, American Minister to Lisbon. No reply will be sent. It is likely, however, that the State Department will send a message of congratulation to President Bragan within the next few days.

WITHDRAWAL OF NUNCIO REPORTED AT VATICAN

Rome, Oct. 7.—It is stated that the Vatican is greatly discomfited by the success of the Portuguese republicans, and that the republic will not be recognized. It is likely that the Vatican will recall the papal nuncio at Lisbon forthwith. It is convinced that the Portuguese Embassy to the Vatican will be suppressed.

ROYAL MINISTERS HELD PRISONERS ON WAR SHIPS

London, Oct. 7.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Lisbon states that all the royal ministers except Franco, the former prime minister, are prisoners on war ships. Republican troops are still concentrated on the Avenida de Liberdade. They also occupy all other strategic points with the view to possible attacks, and will hold them until the republicans in the provinces have given their adherence to the republic.

Foreign Minister Machado says the army and navy and people in every part of the country are joining the republic. Silva, who commanded the insurgents in the Alcantara district, says if the monarchy had possessed a general of even average ability the revolution could have been nipped in the bud, as five of the seven regiments forming the garrison were loyal when the rising began.

LOCKPICKER GETS JEWELRY.

Ransacked home of A. S. French and Makes Escape.

With the aid of a duplicate key, a thief entered the home of A. S. French, 409 Lamont street northwest, yesterday, ransacked the house and escaped with jewelry valued at $200.

There was no one in the house and the robbery was not discovered until French returned home, shortly after 6 o'clock in the afternoon. He had locked the front door when he left for work about 9 o'clock and the door was open when he returned.

Every room was in confusion, showing that the thief had all the time he needed to make a complete search. He had not overlooked a drawer, closet or any place where articles of value might have been concealed. Clothing was strewn about the rooms, but the intruder had committed no wanton damage.

French reported the theft to police of the Tenth precinct and shortly after Detectives O'Brien and Springman left headquarters to begin an investigation. At a late hour last night the thief was still untraced and no view to his whereabouts or identity had been obtained. Among the stolen property were watches, fobs, chains, cuff buttons, scarf pins, lockets, chains, rings, and a pocketbook containing antique coins and several receipts.

RIFLE FINALS SHOT IN RAIN

Lieut. Clausel Captures Gold Medal in Leading Event.

Hangs Up Score of 95 in Competition with Officers and Enlisted Men.

In a drizzling rain the six final matches of the annual fall meet of the District National Guard were shot off yesterday on the Congress Heights range.

One hundred and sixty members of the Guard entered the Evening Star match, the biggest of the day, which was open to commissioned officers and enlisted men of the Guard who have not previously won the match. The distances were 200, 300, and 500 yards. A valuable gold medal was presented to the winner, Lieut. A. Clausel, with a score of 95. Private Charles Groomer was second, with a score of 91 points.

The R. Harris & Co. match, open to officers and enlisted members, with a distance at 600 yards, was won by Lieut. Durston, with Lieut. Adams second. This was originally a tie, score 24, but Durston won out when the tie was shot off. A silver cup was presented to the winner to be his permanent property.

In the distinguished marksmen match, Lieut. Richard Powers won with a score of 90; Sergt. Tom Brown, 88, second, and Capt. S. H. Heidenreich, 85, third.

The brigade team skirmish, open to the different regiments, was won by the First Infantry, composed of Lieut. William Matlocks, Sergt. H. P. McFayden, Color Sergt. F. B. Reynolds, Capt. A. G. Schmitt, Private Harry Buel, and Private Reese.

The Gerstenberg Trophy match was won by Private Charles Groomer, with a score of 45, while Sergt. A. G. Schmitt, Company K, First Infantry, won the Smiley Skirmish match.

Mr. Walker is dead right. If the people like "Thermos"—and they evidently do, because the business is big, and growing all of the time—then it will not matter who comes along and tries to decry it. The people always stand back of a good article. They will give it greater protection than the Patent Office. All that the "Thermos" needs to do is to make good its claims. All that the management needs to do is to make it render good service—then IMITATIONS WILL NOT BE CONSIDERED!

Thousands upon thousands of dollars are often wasted in needless patent litigation. If a manufacturer has an article on which he has secured a patent, and he knows, by tests, that it is good, then the safest course for him to follow is to ADVERTISE IT—MAKE IT KNOWN—GET THE PEOPLE TO LIKE IT AND USE IT—and then he is PROTECTED for all time.

ADVERTISING that wins the people's CONFIDENCE is the biggest kind of a BUSINESS ASSET.
